

From My Heart to Yours... What I love about the Bryson City Presbyterian Church...

I love the friendliness of this congregation.

There is always a sincere welcome, not only in worship, but into our lives.

I love the way we worship together.

There is always a balance of tradition and spontaneity in our worship.

I love the diversity of our people.

We have diversity in our backgrounds, social and economic diversity, a mix of ages, theological diversity and we have different political views. And I love the way we struggle together to not let our diversity destroy our unity and to find a common goal, knowing that we all believe Jesus is Lord!

I love the way we care about our community-

the way we use our building for ministries of grace,
the way we seek to respect our environment,
and the way we face challenges together.

Most of all, I love the way we care for each other and fellowship together-from coffee hours to Wednesday night suppers to picnics to family retreats, we love to fellowship together! And I love the way we enjoy each other and take care of each other. Our congregational care teams jump in when there is the need for a meal and our card ministry makes sure everyone gets a birthday card, anniversary, or get-well card in the mail.

When I first came to this church, I had no idea what to expect. And, believe me, there have been major challenges along the way, but what I found was a community and a ministry beyond compare-unique, free, loving, quality of life place that Mark and I have called home for 15 years! I love the Bryson City Presbyterian Church and will miss you, but I know you will accept this new challenge the way you have faced others in the past, with grace and commitment. And I trust that God will send someone that will love you like I have loved you, and who will build on the foundation that we have, through the Holy Spirit, laid together!
